

ACCOUNTING

What is ACCOUNTING?

If you have a flare for numbers, you might be a budding bookkeeper or accounting clerk. OCTC's Accounting program can help you prepare for those careers and others. Some of our students are preparing for their first jobs while others are making plans for second careers. Either way, OCTC offers associate degrees as well as diplomas and certificates. Get ready to climb that corporate ladder, work in small business or apply your skills to a non-profit organization with an education from OCTC.

Job Outlook

In Kentucky, bookkeeping and accounting clerks earn an average of $32,254.* Salaries vary by area of specialization. See where our graduates Go2Work at www.owensboro.kctcs.edu/gradsGo2Work.
